Fugitive Army Officer Jailed in Algeria

ALGIERS (AP) — Fugitive ex-Gen. Raoul Salan, leader of the terrorist Secret Army Organization, was arrested today in the heart of Algiers, French officials announced.

Salan, a 62-year-old army veteran who has seen service in virtually all corners of the world was sentenced to death in absentia for the putsch as was his colleague, ex-Gen. Edmond Jouhaud.

When reports spread that Salan was captured, heavy troop reinforcements were concentrated around Reghaia, an air base near Rocher Noir headquarters.

Salan already was aboard a plane bound for Paris when the announcement was made, the spokesman said.

A government official said Salan was taken when riot troops and police sealed off a small section in downtown Algiers and launched a search of cars, buildings and passersby.

Capture of the 62-year-old former general who vowed to keep Algeria French came as the French government sharply stepped up action here against his secret army.

There were reports Salan had been captured early in today's search but that he refused to admit his identity and riot police officers who arrested him were not sure themselves it was Salan.

Unofficial reports leaked out that Salan had been taken, but it was not until several hours later that the Rocher Noir headquarters of the French-Moslem provisional executive disclosed the arrest.

There were rumors Salan had been denounced by one of his followers and that police and troops had been able to start the sealing-off operation in time to net him.

This could not be confirmed, but it seemed likely that Salan, who has been living in apparent immunity from arrest for more than a year, had been turned in by a disgruntled follower.

Salan was apparently taken to Reghaia, a French military air base outside Algiers where he either admitted his identity or his captors made sure of it.

It was true that authorities were not able at first to identify him, the case had a striking similarity to the capture of ex-Gen. Jouhaud. It was several hours after Jouhaud's arrest before his identity was established.

Salan's arrest strikes a hard blow at followers of the secret army.

ALGIERS (AP) — Fourteen persons were killed and eight wounded today in a new wave of Secret Army Organization terrorism in Algeria.

The terrorists struck in rapid succession in Algiers and its suburbs while top military and civil authorities were meeting in nearby Rocher Noir to discuss means of re-establishing order in Algeria's major cities.

Most of the victims of today's killings were Moslems. In one secret army commando raid, three Moslems were shot to death and another wounded in an open air fruit and vegetable market in the center of Algiers' European quarter.

The other attacks were scattered through greater Algiers.

DEATH TRUCK — SOLDIERS AND CIVILIANS in West Berlin examine the bullet-riddled dump truck that cost the driver his life in his bid for freedom. Klaus Bruseke drove the truck through the zig-zag barriers and an eight-foot hole in the Communist wall at checkpoint Heinrich Heine Strasse with two companions as passengers. Bruseke was shot by Communist border guards and died in his truck when it rammed against a building in West Berlin, 250 yards from the checkpoint. Withholding Tax by State Is Proposed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Legislative Council acted Thursday on what may eventually mean creation of a state withholding tax.

The council authorized the drafting of a bill to that effect and a complete draft of the proposal is expected within a few weeks.

Revenue Commissioner Ted Donham, who did not indicate whether he favored or opposed the measure, told the council the state could realize a gain in tax collections of as much as 25 per cent from individual returns.

The state treasury now gets about $10.5 a million annually, Donham said, through individual tax returns.

The council was told by Nelson Cox, director of the state Game and Fish Commission, the commission is trying to obtain $150,000 in federal funds to finance a predatory animal control program.

According to Cox, 15 full-time trappers would be employed in an effort to eradicate wolves in Arkansas. The project was proposed by Hempstead Rep. Talbot Field.

Cox said the state now has nine trappers but lacks funds for a full-scale effort.

Twenty-five wolves and seven bobcats were killed in Hempstead County, Cox said, since the commission authorized the commission to act in January.

The full Legislative Council and the Legislative Audit Committee were to meet at the Capitol today.

Among topics expected to be brought up are:

A proposed study by Sen. Clifton Wade of Fayetteville on the revenue Department procedures in issuing license plates.

A study of expenses connected with establishing a records system on marriages and divorces in the Bureau of Vital Statistics, proposed by Pulaski Rep. Glenn Wallner.

A study on how the state can obtain benefits from the federal Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962, proposed by Benton Rep. Roy Galyean.

The audit committee will review 15 audits and hear reports carried over from the March meeting.

Delegates Named to Convention

At the meeting of the Hope Jr. Auxiliary April 18 in the Community Room of the First National Bank, Mrs. George Wright, retiring president, was voted an additional delegate and Mrs. E. P. Young Jr., an alternate to the National Convention in Little Rock May 3-5.

Mrs. George Robison, constitution chairman, presented amendments to the chapter by-laws for a vote. Reporting for the Poultry Festival committee Mrs. Frank McLarty announced that three contestants from Hope had entered.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Wright presented the gavel to the incoming president, Mrs. J. W. Branch.

AEA List Under Study of Council

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Legislative Council may discuss today a voting list being circulated by the Arkansas Education Association dealing with the records of state legislators.

Some legislators have referred to the report as a "purge list" with 88 of the 100 representatives downgraded along with 26 of the 35 state senators.

Forrest Rozell, AEA executive secretary, has denied the purge list charge, saying, "After all, it is part of the American system to look at the record of public officials."

He added, "Are they (the legislators) ashamed of their record?"

Carroll Rep. F. A. (Pat) Teague, a veteran state legislator and among the 88 cited, said he would bring the list before the council at its meeting in Little Rock today.

Legislators were rated partly by the AEA on the manner in which they voted on the AEA-backed teacher retirement bill which was defeated last year.

Other votes rated were the governor's teacher retirement bill, which passed, funds for the state, district and county livestock shows, state park construction and a bill to create a continuing construction fund.

Most of the measures were opposed by the AEA as diversions of school funds.

Signals Probed
WASHINGTON (AP) — Reports that radio signals have interfered with airplanes in the central Arkansas area are being investigated by the Federal Communications Commission. The commission said investigators found evidence the interference came from the Little Rock area.

Youths Admit to Series of Burglaries

Two Richmond, Va. youths, both 19, are in Hempstead County jail awaiting trial for burglary of stores at Washington and Ozark earlier this week.

They are listed as Donald Lee Guster II, and John Thomas Spavin. The two started out in Florida, according to a statement given to Sheriff Jimmie Griffin.

They helped a doctor who in return gave them use of his car for six months, they said.

Then comes a trail of more than 30 burglaries in two states, Louisiana and Arkansas. They hit El Dorado, came on to Hope where the same night they took a spotlight and some $15 in change from Washington Hardware and some 30 silver dollars from W. Jones store in Ozark. The silver dollars eventually resulted in their arrest at Mena.

The boys bought a couple of guns in Glenwood and paid off with the silver dollars. The message had been put out over the State Police radio. A Glenwood Doctor noticed the purchase and notified state officers at Mena. They were picked up and returned here where they admitted everything.

Second Suit Filed Against Rice Farmer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — James Weir, the beleaguered Dermott rice farmer who lost his land to satisfy a federal judgment for overplanting, now faces more court action.

The government filed suit Thursday charging Weir with overplanting by 215 acres his 1961 rice allotment. The suit seeks $25,891 in penalties and interest.

Two other suits currently are pending against Weir — one asks $10,244 for overplanting in 1960 and another seeking $1,218 for planting 94 acres of wheat without an allotment.

On Tuesday Weir's interest in his 994-acre farm was auctioned for $60,000 to satisfy penalties and interest totaling near $23,000 for overplanting in 1959.

Weir previously had paid an $8,900 judgment for overplanting in 1958.

The 1960 case is on appeal to the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis.

Weir, who contends acreage allotments are unconstitutional, said, "This isn't just my fight — it's the fight of all young people in the future. I just hope it isn't too late to preserve part of our constitution."

Millwood Bids to Be Opened May 3

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Army Engineers announced Thursday bids will be opened May 3 on a $3 million project to start construction of the Millwood Dam on Little River in Southeastern Arkansas. The project will include construction of the first stage of the earth embankment for the dam and excavation for a spillway.

Russia Hints Walkout of Geneva Talks

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin threatened today to walk out of the 17-nation general disarmament conference if the United States conducts atmospheric nuclear weapons tests in the Pacific in the next week or so.

He made the comment to newsmen after a Good Friday session of the disarmament conference.

In the conference room itself Zorin said the American tests would bring about an extremely tense international atmosphere.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean made it clear the United States tests undoubtedly will be held because of what he called the unyielding Soviet attitude. Dean said the Soviet Union appears to have killed any chance for a quick agreement on an internationally enforced nuclear weapons test ban.

Both Dean and British Minister of State Joseph B. Godber refused a Russian call for an unpolluted moratorium on tests. The Russians remained adamant against international inspection and control.

The United States, Dean said, "has learned its lesson with regard to a voluntary, unpolluted moratorium which can be broken at will by the Soviet Union on any pretext it wishes to dream up."

The Big Three haggled again about the testing question.

Then, though Zorin had indicated Thursday he might try to force continued sessions over the weekend, the conference recessed for the Easter holidays. It will reconvene Tuesday.

Zorin told the session the projected American tests would collapse the conference and nobody would forgive the United States and Britain if this happened.

Later, speaking to newsmen, Zorin said the tests "would inflict an irreparable blow to the negotiations." Asked to explain what he meant by irreparable, Zorin said:

"There will be no negotiations, that is all."

Reporters reminded Zorin that he had said the American tests would make the five week Geneva negotiations unfruitful. They asked the Soviet delegate if he would still participate. Zorin replied:

"The Soviet Union will not take part in unfruitful negotiations."

Only one tentative step forward was taken by the conference before it recessed. Even the meaning of that action was subject to doubt.

The three nuclear powers agreed to accept a vaguely worded neutralist compromise proposal for a test ban treaty as a basis of negotiations.

Department Store Sales Jump

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Department store sales jumped 24 per cent last week in the Eighth Federal Reserve District compared to the similar week a year ago. Memphis led the way with a 29 per cent increase. St. Louis was next with a hike of 26 per cent.

Sales were up 21 per cent in Louisville, 5 per cent in Little Rock and 24 per cent in seven smaller district cities combined. For the past four weeks, district sales were up 10 per cent.

The St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank said for the year to date district sales are 3 per cent ahead of a year ago.

Lawmakers Say Race Hinges on Personalities

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Leading legislators believe this year's governor's race will hinge more on personalities than programs.

But those who do see issues already think highways, industrialization and education will be the main talking points this summer.

Lawmakers were reluctant to discuss the issues since none of the announced or potential candidates has even hinted yet at a platform. Also, two of the stronger potential candidates—Gov. Orval E. Faubus and former Gov. Sid McMath—still have not committed themselves to the race.

House Speaker John P. Belthoff of Prairie County and Rep. Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County predicted confidently the main race will be between Faubus and McMath.

"These two will fight it out on a comparison of their programs as governors," Van Dalsem said. "Highways and industrialization should be the big issues."

Belthoff said he doubted if any of the other candidates in the race could pose any serious threat to the main contenders.

Sen. Roy Riales of Mena sees the race as pro-Faubus vs. anti-Faubus. The move to commit 50 per cent of all general revenues for educational purposes also will be at issue, Riales said.

Rep. Marion Crank of Little River County, speaker-designate of the House, said with a laugh, "The issue is which one can get the most money. That's all you read about in the newspapers."

Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott predicted the opposition would hammer on the fifth term issue and Faubus would run on his record. Sen. Graham Nixon of Conway said the next governor will have his hands full to provide necessary funds without raising taxes. "And I haven't found anyone who's for raising taxes."

Ouachita County Rep. E. L. Mosley, who is seeking promotion to the Senate, said the only talk he had heard is that "It's time for a change."

Nothing Wrong With Faubus Physically

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas waited today for Gov. Orval E. Faubus to remove the big question mark from the governor's race, but there were indications Faubus would not announce his plans before Monday.

The governor's office said he had no appointments scheduled today and was not expected to come to the capitol.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that doctors at the Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans gave him a clean bill of health, but he added that he would not announce immediately whether he will run for a fifth term.

There was speculation last week that if Faubus was found well in an extensive physical examination in New Orleans, he would get back into the governor's race from which he had withdrawn.

Faubus returned to Little Rock from New Orleans Thursday. He said today he wasn't delaying his decision about whether to seek a fifth term, but he pointed out that there is no particular hurry, since the Democratic ticket doesn't close until May 2.

He said he wants to make a number of calls to some people before he announces what he will do.

He said he would not wait until the last minute to announce his plans.

Former Gov. Sid McMath, who was attending a family reunion in Magnolia today, said a drive for a campaign fund for him "is progressing nicely." But he still would not say that he will enter the race.

Vernon Whitten of Mt. Holly said "Don't count me out of the governor's race." But he said he also was considering running against Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark. he said he has decided against running against Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

Faubus promised last week to reveal by this weekend whether he will seek a fifth term. The decision, he said, hinged on whether he was cleared to run after a physical checkup.

Faubus returned Thursday from the Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans where doctors spent four days examining him. He went into seclusion without saying how the checkup turned out.

It was not known immediately whether Faubus would pass the word today. He told newsmen Thursday night that he might "disappear for the weekend."

Then he said he might make a few appointments at his office and then disappear until Monday.

In a televised March 31 special, Faubus cited his health as one of the reasons he had chosen not to seek an unprecedented fifth term as governor.

But lately, rumors have swept the state that Faubus is seriously considering running. This may have been behind the reluctance by some possible candidates to announce.

Faubus chided potential gubernatorial aspirants for failing to step forward. He jestingly said he might run if the dozen or so candidates he had predicted failed to materialize.

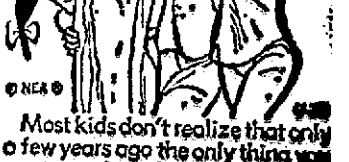

Thursday, Marvin Melton, of Jonesboro, who six days earlier stepped back but not completely out of the picture, said he was getting the backing required and jumped back into the race.

Melton's renewed bid brings to four the number of announced candidates. The others are Little Rock attorney Kenneth Coffelt, Rep. Dale Alford of Little Rock and Odell Dorsey, a North Little Rock businessman.

Only Alford has paid the $1,500 filing fee. Alford said Thursday he's in the race to stay.

Dorsey has based his brief campaign on the government being the state's largest business and should be run by a businessman. Coffelt says he's the people's candidate.

Sitting in the backroom, but not too far, is former Gov. Sid McMath whose backers have raised over $60,000. McMath supporters say the former governor will run if $100,000 is raised.

HIGHWAY TO ADVENTURE—Soon American and Canadian sportsmen and tourists will be traveling the longest national highway in the world. Within the year, the Trans-Canada Highway which crosses the country from Newfoundland to British Columbia—a distance of almost 5,000 miles—will be complete, at a total cost of nearly $1 billion. The unique feature of the road is that the natural beauty of the countryside it runs through has been preserved. Beautiful forests and plains, chasms and alps, roaring rivers and placid lakes beckon the motorist.

U.S. EXPORTS EXCEED IMPORTS IN COMPETITIVE COMMODITY GROUPS

EXPORT-IMPORT PICTURE—Newschart shows export-import relationship of some commodities which figure prominently in tariff reduction consideration, in connection with President Kennedy's proposed trade expansion plan, which is now before Congress.

MORE FOR MEAT, LESS FOR MILK—Record number of United States cattle, 99.5 million head as of Jan. 1, this year, owes increase to beef cattle and calves, as number of cattle kept for milk continues to decline. It's the fourth year for overall increase in cattle numbers. Largest gains, both in numbers and percentage-wise: West North Central and South Central regions. Dairy herds declined in all regions except North Atlantic and East North Central states. Data on Newschart from U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Orders Firm to Furnish Utilities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mississippi River Fuel Corp., St. Louis, was ordered by the federal Power Commission today to allocate its utility customers a large part of the natural gas it now is selling directly to industrial customers.

The FPC ruled Mississippi had failed to meet the needs of its utility company customers and therefore had not performed its obligations to them.

It added that Mississippi had extended service to its industrial customers while the utilities, with waiting lists of consumers, could not obtain additional gas from it.

Mississippi serves 17 utility customers in Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas.

Under today's decision, Mississippi is to allocate 494,392,000 cubic feet of gas a day to the 17 utilities. Its present allocation to them is 468,585,000 cubic feet a day. The company's capacity is 534,000,000 cubic feet a day.

FPC added that allocations to four of Mississippi's utility customers who did not take part in the hearings but who are in need of gas, are dependent upon approval of their applications within

Lighter Side of the News Over Nation

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Visitors to the U.S. Capitol frequently complain that the system of lettering and numbering the floors of the various buildings is confusing.

On the other hand, people who work in the Capitol contend that the system is logical but the visitors are confusing.

With a new tourist season now getting underway, I thought it might contribute to better understanding between the public and the Congress if I undertook to explain just how the system works.

It's simple, really, and once you get the hang of it you have no trouble finding your way around, particularly if there is a guard handy to give you directions.

For instance, if we enter the new House Office Building through the main door, we might think of ourselves as being on the ground floor.

But technically we will be on the first floor. The ground floor or depending on how you look at it.

Or, if we enter the main door of the old House Office Building, we will be on the second floor, which corresponds to the first floor of the new building.

Technically, the old building does not have a ground floor; so its street level is either the first floor or the second floor. You follow me thus far? Very well.

If we now take an elevator to the lowest level, we will be on what is technically known as the basement floor. Here we will see a sign which says "subway to the fourth floor."

This doesn't mean the subway runs to the fourth floor. It means the elevators run from the subway to the fourth floor.

The subway runs to the Capitol proper, where the floors are lettered, "B," "F," "P" and "G." If we ask the elevator operator for the ground floor, he will let us off at "F," not "G."

"F" stands for "first," but is usually called the street floor. There is no "S" floor except in the old Senate Office Building. But there "S" stands for "subway," not "street." Elsewhere, the subway is lettered "B," which stands for "basement."

The level on which the House and Senate chambers are located is called the "floor." It, however, is not lettered "F." It is lettered "P," which stands for "principal."

In the Capitol itself, "G" stands for "gallery," but in the new Senate Office Building, "G" stands for "ground." However, the "G" floor is at ground level only at one end. At the other end, the ground, or street, level is the first floor.

This completes our orientation tour of the Capitol. All we have to do now is find our way out.

President of Ozarks Resigns

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The board of trustees of the College of the Ozarks accepted the resignation Wednesday of Dr. William S. Findley, president of the school.

Charles Shertzer, president of the board, said Findley's resignation is effective immediately.

The board also voted to formally appeal the decision of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools to drop the college from its accredited list July 1.

Shertzer said the board is convinced it did not provide "complete and adequate information" to the accrediting body during a recent evaluation. He said the board felt when the facts were given the NCA, the decision would be reversed.

Findley gave no specific reason for his resignation. He said, "I have become persuaded that the best interests of the college will be furthered by my resignation."

The Presbyterian-operated school is the oldest institution of higher learning in Arkansas. It was founded in 1834.

Equal Rights
Versus Protection

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Don't be flummoxed by those ex-husbands who play they were martyrs. They're crying with one eye.

You printed a letter from Mr. J. P. C. who wrote, "If it weren't for my children's faith, love and loyalty, God only knows what might have happened to me when my wife and I divorced." How about the poor wife who suffered the tortures of the damned to produce those children? Suppose she did lose her temper and maybe have a fling or two? Any woman who has been a wife and mother deserves a little pampering and petting.

Why should men go Scott-free after a night on the town while we women get the raised eyebrow treatment and worse for the same indiscretion? If men live by the single standard without condemnation, so should we be allowed to.

—Wife-On-The-Warpath
Dear Wife: The benefits of equal rights for women, and this includes the single standard, are still debatable. We lose, as well as gain. I am not a feminist and never will be. I would far rather be a wife who encourages her husband to take the lead, than a militant worker on a so-called equality basis with men, as if we women ever could be, or in our hearts, honestly desire to be!

We would be going contrary to nature. She's given us superiority in other ways. We can stand more pain than men. We have greater endurance and are far more intuitive. As for the single standard, the disadvantages outweigh the advantages.

Dear Helen: As a rule I read and enjoy your column but that letter from Mr. J. P. C. knocked me cold. He seems to think he should be awarded a medal for rearing a family solo. How many widowed mothers manage to work, rear a flock of children and still keep the home fires burning without so much as a peep of protest?

He said he has not remarried. Did he hold hate for his ex-wife so much that all women are repugnant to him? He remarked "My wife screamed in court." What could he expect of a mother bereft of her children? I feel strongly because I too am raising a family on my own.

Our eldest boy was six when we divorced and had only hate in his heart for his father. Like the misguided Mr. J. P. C., my daughter cuddles to me, along with my two boys. No, I don't want any medals. My reward comes when they talk pleasantly and without animosity about their father. In two short years I've changed our life from that of a terrified mother and children dominated by fear and hate for a simple, and should be handled as peace in a home filled with love and understanding. I cared deep. What girl doesn't? Tell yours that by for my ex-husband at one time. She will, provided she eats the Now, I feel sorry for what he has lost. —A Reader

Dear Reader: Be charitable to the poor fathers who have to be mothers as well. Home-making comes naturally to a woman. For a man, it's a terrific effort. The fact that Mr. J. P. C.'s child voluntarily choose to go with him, tells the story. Some women can be, and are, hellions.

Dear Helen: My three-year-old daughter just won't eat the food she should—cereals, fruits, vegetables and meats; but, bring on the ice cream and she'll gobble every last drop. It's a real problem. This clash of her will and mine. I've whipped her day after day, to no avail. Prunes, oatmeal, soft-boiled eggs and spinach are tossed defiantly over her shoulder and onto the carpet. Her war-weariness is damaging my dining room. To say nothing of my nerves. Please tell me how to get her to eat what she should and not what she wants to. —Worried Mother.

Dear Worried: A child will naturally resist any food forced upon her. Whipping, as you've already discovered, is not the answer. In two short years I've changed our life from that of a terrified mother and children dominated by fear and hate for a simple, and should be handled as peace in a home filled with love and understanding. I cared deep. What girl doesn't? Tell yours that by for my ex-husband at one time. She will, provided she eats the Now, I feel sorry for what he has

El Dorado Men Seek Office

LITTLE ROCK, AP—Jack Hoggard, an El Dorado attorney, filed today as a candidate for circuit judge in the 2nd Division of the 13th Judicial Circuit.

The post now is held by Judge Tom Marlin, who has not filed for reelection. Another El Dorado attorney, Melvin Mayfield, has filed for the job.

The district includes Calhoun, Columbia, Ouachita and Union counties.

Royce Weisenberger

CANDIDATE FOR Chancellor

Second Division

To The Citizens Of: Hempstead, Nevada, Clark, and Miller Counties:

I appreciate the privilege to now be serving you a fourth year as Prosecuting Attorney.

I am asking to succeed Judge Ben Shaver of Texarkana, (who is not a candidate) as Judge of the Chancery and Probate Courts of the Sixth Chancery District which also includes Pike, Howard, Little River, Sevier and Polk counties.

I have never held any office in these five counties. I have, as a private attorney, tried cases in all five of them.

While I shall make every effort to see all the voters in the nine counties personally to solicit their active support, I am by this letter also asking your help.

In a District race, the written or spoken recommendations of citizens interested in a candidate very often determine who is elected. I will be grateful to you if you will write or speak to others in this nine county district for me.

To you who do, I will always be humbly grateful.

Sincerely Yours,
Royce Weisenberger

BANKING ON DEATH

Chapter 29

Thatcher emerged from the house to find a vacant car standing in the street under a light dusting of snow and a few flakes leisurely drifting downward. He looked up and down the street, and his driver came hurriedly out of the drugstore on the corner where he had been keeping watch.

"Ready for the airport, Mr. Thatcher?" he asked as he started the engine.

"Yes, Ben, I'm through here."

But 20 miles later the snow had thickened to a dense, obliterating curtain, and the car radio in one of its moments of intermittent reception announced that Western New York was preparing to receive four to five inches of snow. Clearing skies were expected that evening. After all, mused Thatcher, three o'clock in the afternoon was an awkward time of the day to arrive back at his office—too late to get anything done, but too early to call it a day. Certainly not worth while taking off in the middle of a snowstorm when he could wait a few hours and travel in comfort. Far wiser to call the airport and find out what the situation was. He told Ben to take him downtown instead. He could always pick up the airport limousine there if there was an unexpected break in the weather.

Thatcher congratulated himself on this rearrangement as he headed for the dining room with a clear conscience. He could employ some unexpected time in Buffalo very usefully.

With Thatcher in Buffalo, Charlie Trinkam assumed nominal direction of the Sloan Trust Department; nominal because senior trust officers are jealous of their independence—and prolific of suggestion.

His secretary entered to announce that a Martin Henderson had called, that he was demanding instant action of some sort from the Sloan, and that he wanted to talk to the man in charge.

Trinkam burst out: "Get Nicolls in here! I don't know how we're supposed to get any work done around here with everybody chasing after this Schneider business."

He took a sharp turn around the office and returned to find Ken in the doorway.

"Oh, it's you, is it?" he said ferociously. "Well, you'll be glad to know that just now, when we're up to our ears in work, you are going to be no use to us at all. You're going to take care of this Schneider business."

"Something new, Charlie?"

"How should I know?" his harassed superior replied. "Look, Ken, call this Henderson jerk and keep him out of my hair, will you. I've got more than enough to worry about as it is."

Ken was glad to go. And there was something new, as he discovered when he returned Martin's call.

Hilda Henderson was dying. The news had been disseminated by the Schneider trust with its customary rapidity, and Arthur was in New York for the double purpose of presiding at the deathbed and talking turkey with Thatcher. Ken apologized for Thatcher's absence, which he discreetly described as a "short business trip," and found himself being pressed to join the two men for a short talk.

Left to his own devices he would have returned an unhesitating refusal. Martin's financial irregularities left a persistently sour taste.

Hogs Halfway Through Training

FAVETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Spring practice reached the half-way mark Thursday, and left Arkansas football coach Frank Broyles feeling mighty low as his Razorbacks adjourned for Easter vacation.

"We're not near the football team we should be at this stage," he said. "We're making too many mistakes."

Broyles eyed the practice field, where a defensive team composed of the third and fourth units repeatedly stopped ball carriers running with an offense drawn from the first and second units in a scrimmage Thursday.

"We've had more disappointments this spring than we anticipated," he said. "And we haven't had any of the pleasant surprises you normally expect."

Broyles mentioned his "gray squad" and noted that a dozen players were dressed in the gray sweat togs because of injuries. He said he hoped he would have them all back in action after the holidays, April 30.

"But," he mourned, "we'll probably have to spend two or three days just getting everyone back to peak performance before we can progress beyond the point, we've already reached."

Broyles previously had announced that he would not hold a scrimmage Thursday, but changed his mind in order to get in all the work possible.

He still is looking for a backfield standout to give the Porkers some depth. Several of the young players have looked good, but Broyles indicated that he still remains unsatisfied.

Sophomore quarterbacks Garland Ridenour of Fort Smith and Billy Gray of Helena directed the offensive team Thursday. They marshaled several scoring attacks, but for the most part were stopped with gains of only a few yards.

Sophomore Jim Williams of Forrest City led the defense, making several key tackles from his linebacker position.

Pirates, Cards Just Keep Rolling Along

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

The communications industry wasn't exactly jolted when the Pittsburgh Pirates announced on January 16 that no member of the club could have his own radio or TV show, but the edict might have been just the slap on the wrist needed to revitalize the do-frocked champs.

For those same Pirates who won the National League crown in 1960, then fell to sixth last year when they started out as the toast of the town, have reeled off eight consecutive victories—the latest a 6-3 win over Philadelphia Thursday night.

And three of the players who had shows last season—Dick Groat, Don Hoak and pitcher Bob Friend—are largely responsible for the Pirates' showing. Friend has won two, Groat is hitting .394 and Hoak .321.

St. Louis' Cardinals also remained undefeated, winning No. 6 with a 9-4 thumping of New York's winless Mets.

Houston blanked Chicago's Cubs 6-0 behind Dean Stone's five-hitter, the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Cincinnati 4-3 and San Francisco defeated Milwaukee 7-6 in other games.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox blasted Minnesota 10-3, the New York Yankees whipped Baltimore 3-1, Boston beat Detroit 9-5 and the Los Angeles Angels outlasted Kansas City 6-4 in 12 innings. Cleveland and Washington were not scheduled.

Bill Mazeroski's third homer, off Phil's starter Art Mahaffey (2-1), sent the Pirates into a 5-1 lead they held the rest of the way. Al McBean (1-0) started for Pittsburgh but had to give way to reliever Jack Lamabe after five innings due to a sore elbow.

Curt Flood stoked four hits and Stan Musial drove in three runs with a pair of singles as the Cards sent the Mets spinning to defeat No. 7, Ray Washburn (1-0) won it, with Al Jackson (0-2) the loser.

Stone allowed the Cubs five this time. Al Spangler's bases-loaded single off Don Cardwell (0-3) in the second inning gave Stone the only run he needed.

Home runs by Tommy Davis and Duke Snider gave the Dodgers and southpaw Sandy Koufax (2-1) the victory over the Reds. Moo Drabowsky (0-2) lost it.

The Giants struck for five runs in the fifth on a homer by Jim Davenport, Harvey Kuenn's single, three walks by Lew Burdette (0-2), a wild pitch and Jose Pagan's two-run single before Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey drove in the deciding runs in the seventh.

Mick Homers in Yank Win Over Orioles

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Power? The Chicago White Sox are loaded with it. That's right—the Chicago White Sox.

The supposedly punchless White Sox turned to the long ball again Thursday, running their winning streak to four games with a 10-3 wallop of the Minnesota Twins, and remaining at the top of the American League.

Outfielder Jim Landis ballooned his average from .167 to .294 with a single and a pair of homers—one a grand slam that capped a nine-run explosion in the first inning.

They were the ninth and 10th homers—tops in the AL—for the White Sox.

Mickey Mantle homered in the New York Yankees 3-1 victory over Baltimore. Lu Clinton's grand slam homer carried Boston to a 9-5 triumph over Detroit and Billy Moran's two-run shot gave the Los Angeles Angels a 6-4, 12-inning win over Kansas City. Cleveland and Washington were not scheduled.

In the National League, Pittsburgh won No. 8 by beating Philadelphia 6-3, undefeated St. Louis won its sixth, 9-4 over the New York Mets, Houston blanked Chicago's Cubs 6-0, the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Cincinnati 4-3 and San Francisco whipped Milwaukee 7-6.

Landis opened against Twins' starter Jim Kaat (0-1) with a single and put the finishing touches on the first inning outburst with his grand slam off Georges Maranda. He belted his other homer in the sixth off Ted Sadowski. John Buzhardt (1-1) went the distance for the White Sox.

Mantle got the Yankees started with a second inning homer off loser Chuck Estrada (1-1) and scored the final run in the ninth. Ralph Terry (3-0) was the winner.

Clinton's sixth inning homer clinched it for the Red Sox. Couley (1-1) got the victory with last inning relief from Dick Radatz.

North Dakotans Wallop State

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The University of North Dakota revamped itself here Thursday by walloping Arkansas State 20-2 in an intercollegiate baseball game.

A-State nipped the Dakota nine 3-2 here Wednesday.

Ken Weber led the slaughter Thursday, pounding out a double, a triple and a homer in three times at bat. He was intentionally walked three other times.

The sixth and seventh innings were the big ones for the winners. All nine men went to bat in both innings. They scored four runs in the sixth and three in the seventh.

Maynard Barta struck out 11 men to take credit for the victory. Jim McKay, who pitched only one and one-third innings, was the loser.

Phil Regan (0-2) lost it. Eddie Yost walked for the Angels with two out in the last of the 12th and Moran stroked his homer to subdue the A's. George Witt (1-0) won it with Dave Wickersham (0-1) taking the setback.

Four states (Delaware, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Rhode Island) could fit into the area of San Bernardino County Calif.
